Our life’s work is giving people reasons to smile.

It’s no wonder we have the best reunions.

Tufts Dental Reunion Weekend 2020
Dear Fellow Alumni,

The Tufts University Dental Alumni Association is hard at work putting together a slate of fun and engaging activities that will give you the opportunity to design your own reunion adventure. So please join us April 24–26, 2020, to relive your dental school memories, create new ones, and celebrate with your class, family, and friends.

The weekend will include exciting educational and cultural activities, including two amazing continuing education courses: 3D Engineering in Dentofacial Rehabilitation will be lectured by Wael Att, DDS, Dr Med Dent Habil, PhD, the new chair of the TUSDM Department of Prosthodontics; and Pharmacologic Management of Acute Dental Pain and the Prescription Opioid Epidemic will be lectured by 40th reunioner Richard S. Harold, BS (pharmacy), DMD, JD, D80, A00P, D06P. Additionally, TUDAA will host a family lunch on Friday afternoon followed by a reception in the new dental school lobby on Friday evening. On Saturday, the Annual TUDAA Luncheon will take place at the Four Seasons Hotel Boston, followed by the reunion receptions and class dinners later that evening. The weekend will close with the Dean’s Farewell Brunch on Sunday morning at the Four Seasons.

We thank you for your support and unwavering commitment to TUDAA—it’s because of you that our alma mater continues its impressive rise among the ranks of the world’s great universities.

In closing, I would like to remind every alum of the School of Dental Medicine of the importance of giving back. I ask that you take a moment to reflect on your days at the school and where you are today. Our dental school gave us the opportunity to achieve the quality of life that we have now. Please consider making your reunion class gift and make this the best reunion year yet!

I am proud to serve as president of your alumni association. Do feel free to contact me should you have any questions, ideas, or comments. We look forward to seeing you in April!

Sincerely,

Ancy

Ancy Verdier, A96, D03, DG06
President

Start your day with a delicious and hearty breakfast.

Yoga Class with Instructor Christina DiBona Pastan, D91, DG92, DG94
8:00–9:00 a.m. | Four Seasons Hotel Boston
Christina DiBona Pastan is an assistant professor of clinical endodontics and director of Mind-Body Wellness at the School of Dental Medicine. Pastan developed a mandatory wellness program in the dental school's curriculum. Her work involves lectures and guided experiences in the mind-body practices of yoga and meditation that assist in the development of the dental professional as well as support personal growth and reduce stress.

Pastan earned a 300-hour certification in Kripalu Yoga, a style of classic Hatha yoga that focuses on non-judgment and self-compassion. She guides weekly yoga classes and meditation sessions for students, faculty, and staff, and she is chair of the TUSDM Wellness Committee. Outside of her position at Tufts, Pastan maintains a practice limited to endodontics in Boston’s Back Bay.

Fenway Park Tour
9:30–10:30 a.m. | Fenway Park
Transportation provided from One Kneeland Street to Fenway Park.
Trolley departs at 9:00 a.m.
All fans are welcome to Fenway Park, “America’s most beloved ballpark,” nestled in the city of Boston and visited by baseball aficionados from around the world. Home of the Boston Red Sox, Fenway Park is the pulse of Red Sox Nation and where the names of Red Sox legends Williams, Yaz, Fisk, and Rice live on. Visit Pesky’s Pole and sit atop the fabled Green Monster, looming 37 feet, 2 inches above deep left field. Fenway Park is a place where dreams are made, traditions are celebrated, and baseball is forever. This thrilling one-hour walking tour will be led by experienced guides.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Friday, April 24, 2020
8:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m.

3D Engineering in Dentofacial Rehabilitation
Wael Att, DDS, Dr Med Dent Habil, PhD
4 Continuing Education Credits
Cost: $99

Course description:
The progressive shift toward implementing digitally driven 3D engineering tools in reconstructive dentistry is obvious. The ultimate goal of digital technologies is to improve the quality and capabilities in examination, diagnosis, and treatment of the dental patient. It is still questionable, however, whether such digital tools facilitate improved accuracy in data acquisition and assessment, superior efficacy in treatment planning, and a more controlled and faster manufacturing process. This exciting presentation will provide an overview of state-of-the-art 3D engineering in comprehensive dentofacial rehabilitation and will discuss different possibilities and advantages when using the digital approach versus the conventional approach.

Course objectives:
• Understand the different components of the digital workflow in reconstructive dentistry
• See how the combination of different digital technologies can benefit overall treatment
• Discover the advantages and limitations of the digital workflow in complex rehabilitations
• Explore how future technologies will change the way we practice

Speaker biography:
Wael Att is a professor and chair of the Department of Prosthodontics at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine. He is also a professor of prosthodontics at the School of Dentistry, University of Freiburg, Germany. Att, a board-certified prosthodontist from the German Society of Prosthodontics and Biomaterials (DGPro) since 2004, is an active member of multiple professional organizations, including the European Academy of Esthetic Dentistry (EAED), International Academy of Digital Dental Medicine, International College of Prosthodontists, and Greater New York Academy of Prosthodontics. He is president of the International Academy for Digital Dental Medicine (IADDM) and the Arabian Academy of Esthetic Dentistry (ARAED), and is past president of the Prosthodontics Group of the International Association for Dental Research (IADR).

Att earned a DDS in 1997 from Tishreen University and a Dr Med Dent (2003) and PhD (2010)—as well as the title of extraordinary professor (2013)—from the University of Freiburg. He was a visiting assistant professor from 2005 to 2007 at the Weintraub Center for Reconstructive Biotechnology, UCLA School of Dentistry, as well as the director of the postgraduate program in prosthodontics at Freiburg from 2007 to 2017. A widely published and internationally respected clinician and lecturer, Att’s main focus within teaching, research, and clinical practice is esthetic and implant dentistry as well as the implementation of cutting-edge digital technologies in both reconstructive and multidisciplinary dentistry.

Saturday, April 25, 2020
8:30–11:30 a.m.

Pharmacologic Management of Acute Dental Pain and the Prescription Opioid Epidemic*
Richard S. Harold, BS (pharmacy), DMD, JD, D80, A00P, D06P
3 Continuing Education Credits
Cost: $99
*This course fulfills the Massachusetts Board of Registration in Dentistry’s requirement for safe and effective opioid prescribing/pain management CEUs.

Course description:
Proper prescription writing is a critical aspect of patient care, particularly in today’s environment of opioid abuse and enhanced prescribing regulations. Attendees will learn about the history of pain management and dentistry’s responsibility in combating the prescription drug epidemic. The basics of choosing proper analgesics are reviewed so that attendees will understand the standards of care as they pertain to pain management. Attendees will obtain a better understanding of addiction and substance abuse problems and be better prepared to manage and counsel high-risk patients.

The presentation will discuss the scope and responsibilities of prescription-writing privileges as they apply to the practice of dentistry. Pharmacologic pain management options available to dentists will be reviewed, including opioids and non-opioids. The principles of oral dosing regimens will be presented along with side effects, contraindications, and clinically significant drug-drug interactions. Basic pain physiology will be discussed, as will the mechanisms of action of commonly prescribed analgesics. The dentist’s responsibility in combating drug diversion will be presented, including how to identify drug-seeking patients.

In addition, the following topics will be discussed:
• Aberrant behavior in the drug-seeking patient
• Counseling patients with substance abuse problems
• The history of the prescription opioid epidemic in the United States
• Legal and ethical issues involved in prescribing opioids
• DEA prescription regulations and drug diversion
• Basic pharmacology and therapeutic guidelines of opioid and non-opioid analgesics
• Minimizing prescribing errors and common prescribing mistakes
• The war on drugs
• The Controlled Substances Act of 1970
• Proper storage, security, and disposal of unused controlled substances
• Prescription pad compliance and security
• Model prescribing policies recommended by the ADA and HHS

Course objectives:
• Review analgesic-prescribing guidelines in connection with the effective management of acute dental pain
• Understand the origin of the prescription opioid epidemic and dentistry’s role in combating substance abuse
• Understand the risks of substance abuse and addiction associated with opioid analgesics
• Learn to identify and counsel patients at risk for substance abuse
• Understand how to counsel patients about the side effects, security, addictive nature, and proper storage and disposal of controlled substances
• Understand the legal and ethical issues of prescribing appropriate quantities of controlled substances
• Understand the basic pharmacology and side effects of opioid and non-opioid analgesics

Speaker biography:
Richard S. Harold is an associate professor in the Department of Comprehensive Care at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine. Harold earned a DMD from Tufts University, a JD from New England School of Law, and a BS in pharmacy from Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. Prior to joining the faculty at Tufts University, Harold owned and operated a general dentistry practice in the Greater Boston area.

A consultant to the American Dental Association Council on Dental Practice, Harold is also a member of the American Dental Education Association, Massachusetts Dental Society, American College of Legal Medicine, and American Academy of Dental Science.

Harold has a specific interest in dental-legal issues and has lectured locally and nationally. He has published several articles regarding dentistry and the prescription opioid epidemic, management of acute dental pain, and ethical and legal guidelines for prescription writing. Harold’s course on the management of acute dental pain is approved by the Massachusetts Board of Registration in Dentistry and fulfills state pain management licensing requirements.
We will honor the classes that achieved the highest levels of support for the school through their gifts.

Porcelain Bridge: Highest percentage of participants giving to the Tufts Dental Fund during the reunion year.

Cusp of Excellence: Greatest total dollar amount given to Tufts Dental Fund during the reunion year.

Golden Crown: Greatest total dollar amount of donations, including all capital gifts and Tufts Dental Fund gifts, since the last reunion.

Impression: Highest percentage of participants giving to the Tufts Dental Fund during the fifth or 10th reunion year.
